Below: The thread from the dried flax plant, grown in nearby Germantown, was woven into linen textiles. The Rittenhouse Mill transformed linen rags into paper which was sold to the printers in Germantown.

Generations of architects, historians & poets have observed & recorded the uniqueness that is Historic RittenhouseTown.

Historic RittenhouseTown
A National Historic Landmark District
Annual Membership Campaign

Since 1984, Historic

RittenhouseTown has welcomed thousands of area youth to its unique 18th- century village. Students experience colonial domestic life & industry by cooking in the ca. 1725 Bake House, learning about the children who lived in the village in the 18th century & making paper using the same tools & techniques utilized by the Rittenhouse family over 300 years ago.

Twenty percent of your membership will help underserved Philadelphia-area schools take advantage of Historic RittenhouseTown's educational programming.

Our program meets Pennsylvania & Philadelphia School District Core Curriculum requirements & accommodates most age groups.

Your Membership Includes:

Free Admission to the Village

Discounts on all Workshops,
Event Tickets & Gift Shop
Purchases

Invitation to Annual Member Meeting

Quarterly Newsletter
